

Do you like to draw? Would you like your art published?

Developmental Texts is seeking illustrators for an illustrative anthology.

An anthology is a collection created by many people. Therefore, you may create and submit one or more works of art for a chance to be published in the book titled Eight; an illustrative anthology about the ninth digit. by Nancy Roop

Illustration Submission Form Guidelines:

The call for submissions is open to everyone, however priority is given to individuals who are 20 years of age and younger and/or identify as neurodivergent.

We want you to express the number eight in many different styles. Submissions can be:

- A general expression of the number 8
- Eight items within a category or topic
- Items with eight parts
- Interpretation of a line of text from the manuscript, *Eight
- Simple or complex, typical or unique, bland or colorful, etc.
- Whatever you dream up: be creative!

Backgrounds are not necessary and may be removed as the overall style of the book will have the focus on the objects surrounded by white space.

Art developed by artificial intelligence is not acceptable.

We encourage you to provide multiple works of art!

The webpage, developmentaltexts.com/submissions/eight will provide additional information about the publishing timeline and process.

*The manuscript is available at developmentaltexts.com/submissions/eight.

The manuscript is covered by copyright law. Please do not share it or your art publicly.

"Illustrations will be selected for use at the discretion of Developmental Texts.

If selected, you will receive: illustration credit in copies of the published book; your contribution as illustrator will be acknowledged by name in the Copyright Certificate of Registration and the US Copyright Office Public Catalog; and the attendant public recognition for your work that follows from such attribution.

As a condition of inclusion of your work, you and your parent or legal guardian will be required to sign a written agreement assigning the copyrights in your submission to Developmental Texts, LLC, granting Dev Tex the right to edit your submission, and granting Dev Tex the irrevocable right to include your name (as specified by you) in illustration credits in the published book."
